

OFFICE OF CAREER SERVICES

USEFUL WEBSITES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

www.aila.org

The American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) was established to promote public understanding of immigration law and policy through education, policy analysis, and support to litigators.

<https://isso.columbia.edu/>

The International Students and Scholars Office (ISSO) at Columbia University provides an array of services for international students, including immigration advice.

www.embassy.org

This website provides information on every embassy in Washington DC with links to web-based resources.

www.grasmick.com

This website provides Canadian-specific information on business immigration to the US.

www.h1visajobs.com

This website lists companies that have sponsored H1-B visas within the past several years. The company obtains this information from the US Government and charges an accessing fee.

www.h1base.com

This website lists job postings as well as companies that have sponsored H1-B visas within the past several years. The company obtains this information from the US Government and charges an accessing fee.

www.howjsay.com

A free, online talking dictionary of English pronunciation; helpful for interview preparation.

www.iaeste.org

The International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience (IAESTE) provides students at institutions of higher education with technical experience abroad relative to their studies in the broadest sense.

www.iie.org

The Institute for International Education (IIE) is a global higher education and professional exchange agency that provides training and leadership development programs for public and private sector professionals around the world.

www.internationalstudent.com

This website was started by a group of international students living in New York City with the goal of helping other international students deal with American US immigration authorities by providing information, services and resources, and part-time U.S. work opportunities.

www.umich.edu/~icenter

The University of Michigan International Center provides a wide range of information for international students, including career advice.

www.uscis.gov

A US Government website that provides information on the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (BCIS) within the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). It also provides information about various administrative and management functions and responsibilities that were once in the former Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).